THE MODERN WARWICK.

WHOSE MISSION IT IS TO MAKE PRESIDENTS.

Again Makes a Stir in Court and Holds a Conference with the Judge—A Scene with His Counsel—The Arrest of the Supposed Man on Horseback—Alleged Peculiarities of the Crank.

WASHINGTON, November 21.—Police officer Eddie, who was riding on the prison van Saturday afternoon at the time the attempt was made to shoot Guitteau, says that the man Jones who was arrested Saturday night as the supposed culprit is not the man who fired in the van. Jones therefore will probably be released. No other arrests have been made.

Ferry Carson, the colored guardman, whose post of duty was at the rear of the van in which Guitteau was conveyed from the city hall to the jail, called at the police station Saturday and positively identified Jones as the horseman who followed the van from the city hall to the corner of East Capitol and First streets, where the shooting occurred. Carson says that when the van reached the capital grounds Jones kept pretty close behind it, and when they reached the corner of First street he rode past the rear end of the van. Almost immediately he heard the pistol shot fired, and then another, but whether Jones is the man that fired the shot he cannot say, as from the position that he occupied it was impossible to see what transpired near the side or at the front of the van. The impression prevails at police headquarters that Jones is the man that fired at Guitteau, notwithstanding the lack of positive identification.

Lieutenant Johnson refused to give any information concerning Jones, but this was an official effort to magnify a thing which proves to be of little general consequence into supposed importance. The man is well known in police circles. While he has been eccentric in his conduct he has not been considered unsafe. It had been a favorite sport with him while intoxicated to pretend to be an expert archer, the mark being a target on a tree. He has several times arrested boys and carried them to the station house where he is now lodged. Upon one occasion he arrested a negro woman and held her securely with ropes. This conduct of his has been generally overlooked, as he seemed to do more harm than good in his efforts to arrest persons.

He has been before the police court several times and is not regarded as a man of strong character. He was at the court room to-day and was there seen by the police. The authorities disposed of him before the van left the court house. Jones saw where Guitteau was standing, and had the prisoners marched past him. He then had the bullet pulled from the bullet hole in the back. Jones is said to be too drunk to give any satisfactory explanation of the affair which is regarded as a very laughable occurrence. He was unable to keep his saddle and put his horse full speed. His equestrian exploits surprised some who saw him, but those who know the man say that he is not to be despised. He remains there until it suits him to dismiss.

THE CRANK ARRANGED.

Jones was brought to police court this morning and arraigned for an assault with intent to kill Charles J. Guitteau. In default of $5,000 bail he was committed to jail and the case indefinitely postponed.

There have been hundreds of visitors at the district attorney's office since the assassination, occasionally a party would get permission to pass through the corridor, while the guard would engage Guitteau in conversation with reference to the shot which was fired upon him. He was unable to all such questions as, "Oh, yes, I am hard to hit." The people who learn after a while that the Lord is with them and with me, and when the flesh wound caused by the shot gives the prisoner no inconvenience. He insists that he must have a strong guard of policemen to assist the Lord in protecting the man in the van like a terrified animal in the street parade of a circus.

Some who know Jones say that he is a veritable son of a gun police officer. It is learned that Jones is a man of dissipated habits, but is not crazy except when drinking to excess. He is a daring fellow, and is hard to hit. He seems to be always able to keep his saddle and put his horse full speed. His equestrian exploits surprised many who saw him, but those who know the man say that he is not to be despised. He remains there until it suits him to dismiss.

THE ASSASSIN'S TRIAL RESUMED.

The second week of the Guitteau trial opened to day under circumstances which had added greatly to the already wonderfully increased interest which each day's proceedings have developed. The crowd about the court house was three times as large as the crowd of Saturday, and the greatest difficulty that the sheriff had to contend with was to get through the crowd to the courtroom.

A DISPATCH from Boston says that the trial of Guitteau will be adjourned to to-morrow morning, and will be continued in the afternoon.

The trial of the assassin will be adjourned to the afternoon, and will be continued in the afternoon.

INDIANAPOLIS, November 21.—David Croman and William Dugan, employees of the Western Union Telegraph company, who were riding on a hand car on the Indianapolis and Terre Haute railroad were killed near Harrison, Friday night. Their bodies were surrounded by masked men, who broke into the car and took their money.

NEW YORK, November 21.—Bishop Whipple, of Minnesota, preached a sermon to-night at the services of the woman's auxiliary society to the board of missions.

REVEALING THE EXISTENCE OF MUCH BAD BLOOD.

As Well as the Necessity for a Liberal Application of It.

A Missouri Policeman Kills an Editor—A Wisconsin Murderer Taken in Hand by the Mob—Suicide in Richmond.

ST. LOUIS, November 21.—A speech from Bonnville, Missouri, to the Republican, says: Thomas A. McDearmon, marshal of this city, shot and killed A. B. Thornton, editor of the Bonnville News, yesterday afternoon. The news yesterday contained an article reflecting severely on McDearmon's official acts, together with some personal abuse. McDearmon met Thornton on the street late in the afternoon, and an altercation ensued, during which blows were struck, and pistols drawn. McDearmon shot Thornton twice in the side and head. The second shot killed him instantly. McDearmon gave himself up to the police.

ST. LOUIS, November 21.—Tucker Basham, of Independence, Mo., who was sentenced to ten years in the penitentiary for complicity in the Glendale train robbery, and was paroled to testify as a witness for the state, has suddenly disappeared. His life had been frequently threatened, his dwelling house set on fire, and since the trial of Bill Ryan, who was convicted on his testimony, has received threatening letters, by some supposed to have come from the James brothers. He was so terrified that taking his wife with him he left his property, and took refuge in the mountains. He has given the pledges of all men. He claims votes outside of New York, but does not mention Illinois. Burrows has no facts to support his claim. The state expected to use Basham as a witness against the parties indicted for the Blue Cut train robbery. His evidence was important.

COLUMBUS, Ga., November 21.—Last Saturday three negroes from Harris county came to this city, and in the afternoon started on their return home all drunk. They procured six miles to Grady Osborne Pitts, a minor, wagered that he could drink more whiskey than any of them when Dennis gave him a quart, which he drank. He was so drunk over his trouble that he left his property, and when taken to his room, in which he charges his brood, was driving his wife away and causing his trouble.

RICHMOND, Va., November 21.—Michael Edelblut, a German, conducted a rifle and pistol through the window of his house, and caused his wife to jump through the head. The deed was caused by derangement resulting from a wife's infidelity. He had separated from her some months ago. She going to town to get a divorce, and taking their two children with her, he followed her, and when Dennis gave him a quart, which he drank. He was so drunk over his trouble that he left his property, and when taken to his room, in which he charges his brood, was driving his wife away and causing his trouble.

ST. PAUL, November 21.—A special to the Pioneer Press from Durand, Wisconsin, says Ed Maxwell, the murderer of the Coleman brothers, had his examination at 2 p. m. to-day. He pleaded not guilty, and required an extension of time. On leaving the court room the officers were impressed, though they made a brave resistance. The prisoner was taken by a hundreded man from all parts of the county and in less than three minutes his brood was hanged from a convenient limb near his home.

ST. PAUL, November 21.—The coroner's jury gave a verdict of death on the body of Dennis, who was found hanging from a bridge over Hocking river.

AT THE EXPOSITION.

FACTS AND INCIDENTS OF THE DAY
NOTED.

Baltimore Takes Possession of the Grounds and Swells the Enthusiasm to Fever Heat-The Metropolis of Maryland Paving Compliments to the Young Giant Among Southern Cities

A remarkable feature of the exposition was held at Oglethorpe park is the fact that not a single word of censure has ever been heard against the management or the character of the exposition. This is the more remarkable when we recollect that the majority of the visitors to the grounds were people who were disposed to be critical. Among them were many who were unfriendly to Atlanta, and who were naturally disposed to carp at what is, in a certain sense, an Atlanta enterprise. Again, many of the visitors were people of travel, who had witnessed the magnificent displays at the American centennial exposition, as well as the grand displays at Vienna and Paris. Yet one and all unite in declaring the cotton exposition a success—perfect in arrangement and rich in exhibits. Such testimony is certainly very gratifying.

Our Maryland Guests.
INCIDENTS OF THEIR WELCOME RECEPTION AT THE EXPOSITION GROUNDS.

Yesterday was raw, misty and disagreeable in most respects, but among the fraternal Georgians and Marylanders who made congratulatory use of the exposition house on the grounds, it was one of warmth, geniality and hospitality. The delegation was accompanied by a number of ladies. The gentlemen and all of their representatives of large commercial and manufacturing interests, while the ladies are welcome delegates from the highest social circles of the Maryland metropolis. They are types, full of the beauty and fashion of that delightful city.

The party includes Ex-Mayor Ferdinand C. Latrobe, R. W. L. Basin, president, and A. de Gheue, secretary of the chemical and fertilizer exchange; Robert C. Basin, Miss Mamie Kasis, William J. Dawson, of William Dawson & Co.; Robert Ober, president of G. Ober & Sons Co.; Charles B. Slingluff, of Messrs. Slingluff & Co.; J. A. Holloway and his wife, C. H. Hollingsworth, of R. J. Baker & Co., all of the fertilizer trade of Baltimore; W. H. Hazelton, managing editor of the Baltimore American, and wife; W. G. Atkinson, of Schomacker & Co., importers and shippers, and wife; Richard Cromwell, president of the Mt. Vernon cotton mills; John M. Donisthorpe, R. W. L. Basin, president, and A. de Gheue, secretary of the chemical and fertilizer exchange; Robert C. Basin, Miss Mamie Kasis, William J. Dawson, of William Dawson & Co.; Robert Ober, president of G. Ober & Sons Co.; Charles B. Slingluff, of Messrs. Slingluff & Co.; J. A. Holloway and his wife, C. H. Hollingsworth, of R. J. Baker & Co., all of the fertilizer trade of Baltimore; W. H. Hazelton, managing editor of the Baltimore American, and wife; W. G. Atkinson, of Schomacker & Co., importers and shippers, and wife; Richard Cromwell, president of the Mt. Vernon cotton mills; John M. Donisthorpe, captain; John A. Hambleton, banker; Major F. W. Coleman, manager of the Carrollton hotel; Frank Spruce, of Deniel, Miller & Co., wholesale dry goods and notions; Lloyd Jackson, of Hurst, Purnell & Co., wholesale dry goods and notions; A. B. Faulkner, of Bruff, Faulkner & Co., wholesale dry goods and notions; F. Hartel, of William Davis & Co., wholesale dry goods and notions; George Cator, of Armstrong, Cator & Co., millinery and white goods; Edward Landstreet, of Townes, Landstreet & Co., rubbergoods; A. G. Alford, of A. & A. G. Alford, agent for Remington's Clinton P.aine, of Alien, Paine & Son, goods; F. C. Slingluff, of the Baltimore bar; R. H. Conway, of the New York life insurance company; John R. Eland, secretary of the merchants' and manufacturers' association; C. L. Jackson, of Jackson & Taylor, manufacturers' and railroad supplies; John S. Curle, of William T. Dixon & Bro., boots and shoes.

After making a full tour of the various exposition buildings and grounds, and by no means omitting the handsome building and exhibit of the Baltimore fertilizer exchange, of which their chaperone, Mr. A. de Gheue, is secretary, the party, at 3 p.m., assembled in Judge's hall to hear the welcoming addresses and responses. There were also present delegations from Augusta and New Orleans.

Governor Colquitt, as governor of Georgia and president of the exposition, was first introduced by Mr. J. C. Peck, the director general pro tem. Governor Colquitt said:

"The Maryland delegation of New Orleans and of Augustus. It leaves its duty as president of the exposition, to say a word in the opening of these ceremonies. That word will be a very brief one. It is to say that the South cordially welcome you to an exposition of their material resources and industries in which the south is practically interested. We were assured that the north would be here to rejoice with us in this enterprise. We had never a doubt that the patriotic men of Maryland would be here to share in this great and extensive benefit as the undertaking in which we are engaged to-day. (Applause.) Gentlemen intelligent enterprises are important, the patriotism of your citizens well known. I might go further and say, not only the patriotism of her men and their recognized gallantry, but the women of this section, the country men and women, that almost all other places, Baltimore is proverbial for the beauty of her women. (Applause.)"

We know that citizens of Baltimore, of Augusta and of New Orleans, as parts of our household, Enter and be free to share with us all we can do for your entertainment. You may be surprised to find the cordiality and cordiality of our hand-grasp. They cannot be surpassed in sincerity anywhere in this nation; and we trust, as we have your friendship today, we shall always have it in all other enterprises in the future. [Applause.]

Ex-Mayor Latrobe, of Baltimore, responded in befitting terms to the cordiality of this welcome. He had not trusted to the resources of the moment for a reply, but prepared the following text, which was most happily received by the audience and promptly applauded:

When I accepted the invitation to accompany my wife to the Centennial exhibition in Philadelphia, Georgia it was with the expectation, I must confess, of finding in your exhibition a magnificent display of your material resources, the products of nature, your general agriculture, your labor, your loving labor and subtle skill, but the result, so far surpasses my conception that I am now at a loss to describe the impression it has made. Your exposition is so unique, so attractive, so diversified, that just as one fancies he has discovered its most attractive feature, he finds himself confounded with another, equally surprising and instructive. And yet, I am not surprised, nor saying that what most impresses us in the fact that this is a great cotton exposition, the first, but not the last, that we have seen. I have heard how great, when ten states exhibit here their greatest staple in modest bales as samples of the product of 15,392,000 acres, pitched to the royal crop of 5,578,000 acres, and last year, giving 15,000,000 pounds of a fabric worth 10 cents per pound, $27,500,000 gathered from your fleecey fields in a single season. No wonder, too, that you call it "Great when the rest of the world are small." Your most ingenious inventions—gins of every pattern from Eli Whitney's down; cleaners, hullers, pickers, etc., spinning machinery and looms, and when here are to be found factories from cotton to the whole made under our own eyes into finest carpet! No wonder, I repeat, that you call this, when we consider the size of your court and the size of the sovereign planters mechanics, merchants, manufacturers and shipper!

Not all. Your business is hand-worked, hand-made. You are teaching us, in a factor of your native woods,之美, by their beauty and variety, while your oaks compass the whole range of woods and metal materials. You suggest handicrafts, caravans of sugar, cotton, mica, silk, wool at the minimum of cost; and your fruits and wines are such as the Mediterranean will wish to copy. We are glad to learn that you have also tobacco—it needs no Aladdin's lamp, geniius to discover those boundless riches—pearls, diamonds, emeralds, rubies, topaz, sapphires, etc., etc., etc.

We are in return for your products, gentlemen, we offer you trade of the most inviting sort. If we take you to our mills, we will give you a return measure of such of our products as you need. These are many and various. We offer you your pick of $100,000 annual manufactures, and we can supply any article, any quantity, if you should want to buy $200,000,000 a year of us. We offer you, if you wish to import for yourselves, regular lines to Europe, India, China, Australia. We offer you $100,000 boots and shoes, of our own make, of Baltimore black-oak tanned leather, the best in the world, besides a still larger stock of good leather, both horsehair and plain, which can sell to you cheaper than you can order them from the manufacturers by rail. THE CONSTITUTION
Atlanta, Ga.

ATLANTA, GA., NOVEMBER 22, 1881.

LIEUTENANT FLIPPER will probably have to go.

The South Carolina legislature meets today.

BALTIMORE was ablaze at the exposition on yesterday.

The editors and policemen of Missouri seem to be "out."

The American public health association will meet in Savannah on the 29th.

The old story of a quart of liquor and a dead negro is related from Harris county.

One thing is evident if all this Guiteau business, and that is that the assassin is a stalwart.

The prosecution in the Guiteau case closed its testimony on yesterday, and the defense is now in order.

The railroad news, reported from all sections of the country, shows that the public prosperity still has a stiff backbone.

The death of Grand Recording and Corresponding-Secretary Ridgeley, of the grand Lodge of Odd Fellows of the United States, is announced.

The death from cholera among the pilgrims to Mecca seems to increase in number. The road to Mecca may well be called the road to death.

The bishop of Manchester seems to be rather dubious about the Moody and Sankey line of evangelization. The bishop grew warm in his discussion of the subject.

Guiteau yesterday claimed that he acted under the inspiration of the Deity. This is true republicanism, as the party sprang into existence in obedience to the "higher law."

The disturbances in Ireland seem to gain in intensity and frequency instead of diminishing. The unhappy island seems doomed to a never changing fate of famine and political ferment.

The Wisconsin mob seems to have a penchant for anticipating the law just as well developed as if it were located in Louisiana. The lynching of Ed. Maxwell was neatly and expeditiously accomplished.

The crank has made his appearance in Italy. One of them created a sensation in the chamber of deputies yesterday by flinging a loaded pistol at Premier De Pretto. The young man is now maintained by the government.

The story of the murder of Nathan Cornwell, detailed in our Georgia news column, is one of surpassing interest, that challenges the wildest western romance. It shows that even in matters of this sort we are not behind the age.

The recent failures of national banks has revived the agitation in favor of some plan for the supervision of these institutions. It is likely that some measure of this character will be enacted at the approaching session of congress.

Gambetta will do France a real service if he will devote, as he promised Sir Charles W. Dilke, his whole mind to the elaboration of a treaty of commerce with England. Industrial victories will give him more glory than political triumphs.

The purchase of the charter of the Griffin, Monticello and Madison railroad and its promised immediate completion, will bring joy to the people of Griffin, who will thus secure increased railroad facilities. The new road will open up a rich section of country.

JAMES G. BLAINE gives himself the trouble to declare that he will neither be representative, governor, senator, nor foreign minister, but that on his return from President Arthur's cabinet he will devote himself to his private business, by which we presume he will reopen his correspondence with one Mulligan.

The contest over the speakership of the next house of representatives is growing warmer as the session approaches. So far Mr. Casson seems to have met with the greatest promise of success as the republican nominee. There is some opposition among the democrats to complimenting Ex-Speaker Randall with a nomination, but it is probable that this opposition will melt away.

THE CENTRAL RAILROAD.

The annual report of President Wadley, which has just been published, is of considerable interest. The earnings of the various lines are tabulated as follows:

Central railroad, Savannah division.....$1,961,435.94
Central railroad, Atlanta division.....741,959.46
Central railroad bank.....4,988.30
Southwestern railroad.....945,929.28
Upson county railroad.....14,496.12

Total for roads and bank.....$5,707,891.35

The expenditures of all kinds are thus summarized:

Central railroad, Savannah division.....$1,168,272.00
Central railroad, Atlanta division.....473,158.32
Central railroad bank.....1,300.30
Southwestern railroad.....643,183.11
Upson county railroad.....12,736.29
Total for roads and bank.....$5,889,424.33

The table of earnings and expenditures of the steamship lines operated by the Central railroad company is as follows:

Gross earnings of ships.....$465,442.70
Operating expenses of ships.....217,612.59

Net earnings of ships.....$248,830.11
from Vale Royal property.....39,941.75
from Gordon press.....12,349.71

Net income from all sources.....$301,121.57

Compared with the previous year the earnings of the railroads of the company have increased $316,401.53, and the expenditures $665,841.86, showing a decrease in the net receipts of $143,440.33.

THE POSTMASTER-GENERAL'S REPORT.

The report of the postmaster-general for the fiscal year ending June 30, shows that the total expenditures made on account of service for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1881, were $39,738,736.46. The revenues were as follows: Ordinary receipts, $36,480,516.58; receipts from money-order business, $225,581.39; making a total of $36,755,397.97; excess of expenditures on account of the fiscal year over receipts for the same, $2,493,338.49; to which should be added the net amount charged on the books of the auditor—as appears by his report—for "bad debts" and "compromise" accounts, $14,790.86; making a total excess of $2,481,129.35. In addition to these expenditures, the sum of $340,829.76 was paid on account of indebtedness incurred in previous years, making the total amount expended during the year $39,506.22.

The registry system is used for transmitting supplies from point of manufacture to the various post-offices in the country; and of the 379,862 registered packages inclosing postage stamps, stamped envelopes, and postal cards to the value of $34,625,435.91, not a single package was lost in transit. Considering the great number and value of the packages, the wide area of territory over which they were distributed, and the modes of transportation in the distant and sparsely settled regions of the country, the total exemption from loss is very remarkable, and proves the value of the registry system as a certain and secure mode of conveyance.

By careful reckoning, based upon an actual count made in every post-office in the United States during the first week in December, 1880, it has been ascertained that the whole number of letters mailed in this country in the last fiscal year was 1,046,107,348. The number reaching the dead-letter office during the same period was 5,323,621, or one in every 315. The total number of letters, and of packages that were of sufficient value to be recorded and filed, received during the year ended June 30, 1881, was 3,674,265, an increase of 354,623 over the number received during the preceding year. For the relief of the appointing officers and the promotion of the greater efficiency and economy of the civil service would be a method of minor appointment, which should be independent of personal or partisan influence.

WHEN the republican organs at the north take out the bloody shirt and hoist it on a broom-handle, there is a very general protest at the south, and yet, when General Sherman visits Atlanta to attend the meeting of Mexican veterans and to see the exposition, some of our most esteemed exchanges unfold the gory garment and go howling around in spectacular style. Consistency ought to consist.

GRANT says that Blaine's people from behind, but the old man refuses to exhibit the wound. Our opinion is that Blaine has merely punched the Blame in the stomach with a green eton parson. DALZELL THROWS TO MAKE A SOUTHERN TOUR.

THE ST. LOUIS GLOBE DEMOCRAT doesn't want Filly for a boss. The next move on the part of the Globe-Democrat will probably be to join the democratic party.

THE fact that such men as Montgomery Blair are pleased with the results of Mahoneism goes to show why Mr. Tilden was not renominated in 1880. As shrewd a man as Mr. Tilden ought to find some remedy for Blaine.

THE PALACE OF ST. CLOUD, near Paris, which every year the war of 1868 has been a mere heap of ruins, is to be demolished; and an edifice constructed on its site which it is hoped may some day prove a rival to the famous building at Sydenham.

THE CAPITAL RIDING IN THE WORLD IS ON THE UNDERGROUND RAILWAYS OF LONDON. Some of them carry workmen twelve miles for a penny—two cents. The passengers last year numbered 110,000,000.

THE RAILROAD REVIEW.

TRACK LAYING AND STOCK-TRADING GROWING LIVELY.

Connection of the Georgia Pacific with Baltimore—Colonel Wadley's Movement—The Columbia and Greenville Road—The Work on the Augusta and Knoxville Railroad.

THE GEORGIA PACIFIC AND ITS CONNECTION WITH BALTIMORE.

The long talked-of project of a railroad across the southern portion of the United States establishing through transportation from the Pacific to the South Atlantic seaboard is at length so far advanced toward completion that the last link, 500 miles in length—the Georgia Pacific, as the new railroad is to be called—has been let out to contract. Baltimoreans are specially interested in this transcontinental line, since it is virtually an extension of the Richmond and Danville system, which, by its recent absorption of the Virginia Midland, has been brought to our doors and made a feeder of Baltimore trade. The Georgia Pacific extending west from Atlanta to Birmingham, Ala., through an enormously rich coal and iron region, will continue thence through Columbus, Miss., to Arkansas City, where the Mississippi river will be crossed, and, proceeding in a direct line to Texarkana, near the Texas and Arkansas line, will there connect with the Texas Pacific. The latter road will be completed to El Paso, distant about 850 miles from Texarkana, by the close of the present year, and as it will there meet the already completed Southern Pacific, which has a length of 1,285 miles, Baltimore can reckon her route to the Pacific at San Francisco as follows:

Washington branch B. & O. from Baltimore to Washington	49.00
Atlanta and Washington railroad, from Washington to Alexandria	6.09
Virginia Midland, from Alexandria to Danville	212.20
Pineywood railroad, from Danville to Greensboro, N. C.	48.60
North Carolina railroad, from Greensboro to Charlotte, N. C.	223.15
Atlanta and Western railroad, from Charlotte to Atlanta, Ga.	23.00
Georgia Pacific, from Atlanta to Texarkana	500.00
Texas Pacific, from Texarkana to El Paso, Texas	85.00
Southern Pacific, from El Paso to San Francisco	1,285.00

Total distance from Baltimore to San Francisco, miles. 3,464.04

The Mexican Central, running northward from the city of Mexico, a distance of about 500 miles, as the crow flies, connects with the Transcontinental line at El Paso, and places Baltimore within about 2,964 miles of the city of the Montezumas. It will be observed that the distance to San Francisco considerably exceeds the distance to the city of Mexico.

The operators of the Georgia Pacific expect to reap great results from the opening up of the coal beds which for a hundred miles border its tracks, and they count on stimulating every branch of southern industry by supplying black diamonds to a wide area of the cotton states, hitherto cut off by want of transportation from their use. The road will pass through the Black Warrior, the Little Warrior and the Coosa river coal fields, and will supply New Orleans and other gulf and south Atlantic cities with an excellent quality of steam-producing fuel. Pittsburgh too distant to compete successfully. Coal that city destined for New Orleans has to be carried 2,000 miles, while by the new enterprise the crossing city is reached in from three to over 600 miles by rail and river transportation. The president of the Georgia Pacific railroad is ex-Senator Gordon, of Georgia, who says: "We believe that there is a great south as well as a great west, and we propose to develop it. The resources of the country on the line of our road are inexhaustible."

THE COLUMBIA AND GREENVILLE.
Columbia Register.

The annual meeting of the stockholders of the Columbia and Greenville railroad was held in this city yesterday morning. About 13,500 shares of stock were present, and one of the largest stockholders—including Mr. Stewart, of Richmond, who owns one-third of the stock of this road—was present. In accordance with the rules of this organization the stockholders elect a president and twelve directors. The first business of the meeting was the election of a president, and the present incumbent, Colonel R. L. McCaughrin, of Newberry, was unanimously elected. The following directors were then chosen: J. S. Corbin, Abbeville; Hamlin Beattie, Greenville; C. H. Suber, Newberry; A. C. Haskell, Columbia; James Conner, Charleston; W. A. Courtney, Charleston; W. B. Clyde, New York; Jos. Bryan, Richmond; Jas. H. Dooley, Richmon; W. H. Parker, Birmingham; and M. Logan, Richmond. At a meeting of the stockholders a dividend of 6 1/2 percent was declared on preferred stock to the 1st of December. The annual reports submitted to the stockholders disclosed the admirable management of the railroad under its present administration, and were entirely satisfactory. The directors are invested with authority to select the other officers of the road, but from what we could learn in the present officials will be continued in their places.

THE AUGUSTA AND KNOXVILLE.
Saluda, S. C. Argus.

The work on the Augusta and Knoxville railroad is making good progress, and a great gap will have been completed ere the Christmas holidays roll around, and the remainder of the work, considering that a rough winter may retard progress several weeks after Christmas, will be completed before the May flowers begin to bloom. President Verdy is confident of being able to transport the South Carolina directors over the entire line to the annual meeting on the 4th of next May. This is giving ample time for the completion of the road, and putting on necessary rolling stock to accommodate travel, and to have a regular running schedule. Chief Engineer Twiss is hopeful of having all the iron laid to Greenwood by February 1st, but this, of course, is conditional, and it will require continued and unobstructed work to do this, which may not be possible in the event of rough weather. Last night the road had been completed to a point near Parksville, which leaves about eleven or twelve miles intervening between thence and Dorn's. It is our belief that the next six weeks will see the road finished up to and on this side of Dorn's, which will leave only twenty-four miles to be completed.

THE CENTRAL OF GEORGIA.
Savannah Times.

Colonel Wadley, the president of the Central road, has run a sort of amphibious schedule for the past few weeks. One day we hear of him on land and the next we hear of him at sea, en route to New York. His movements have been made so quietly that the interested ones have been perfectly dumbfounded as to his movements, by both land and water. Many were the speculations as to the object he had in view, and notwithstanding the many surprises, none of them could solve Mr. Wadley's perambulating problem; hence they all remained in painful anxiety as to his object until the news was flashed over the wires day before yesterday, stating that Colonel Wadley of the Central, had "gobbled up" the Augusta and Port Royal road, and that road which for several years past has been a thorn in the interest of and controlled by the Central. That was the bombshell which burst and scattered the surmises and their opinions to the four winds.

Mr. Wadley's grand railroad strategy which accomplished that much desired end has added new laurels to his wreath of fame as a wide-awake railroad man. It was a master-piece of railroad strategy and one that can but redound to the interest of Savannah; for that step alone will block the Port Royal road, and thousands of bales of cotton which were carried over that road to Port Royal and to Charleston will now, per force of circumstances, have to seek an outlet at our city; for Colonel Wadley is now master of the situation. He has won four more than even a general can expect here. The upper part of Georgia and lower South Carolina are part cotton growing sections, and their immense crops have heretofore been divided between Charleston, Savannah and Port Royal. Now that was rather long division, and Colonel Wadley being somewhat more partial to "short division," he set his level head to work to get control of the Port Royal, the greater part in the Central's side. And when he puts his head to work to accomplish an end, that end had better look out if it don't want to be accomplished. Colonel Wadley keeps his own counsel, and so closely has he made that a study that we doubt if his left hand knew what a picnic his right was having when he signed the necessary papers which gave him control of the Port road.

Therefore, we do not wonder that the Central stock took such a jump in the past few days. On last Monday it was quoted at 118 bid and 118 1/2 asked, and yesterday it closed at 127 bid and 128 1/2 asked, and the general impression seems to be that it will jump into the thirties. Colonel Wadley's handsome move on the Port Royal, coupled with the rumors that the Louisville and Nashville were buying up "Central" on the quiet, is considered the cause of the sudden jump. The Louisville and Nashville may try that game, but unfortunately Colonel Wadley and his supporters own too many shares "out of reach" for that scheme to have any hopes of success. They may buy and buy, but it will be away in the "sweet bye-and-bye" ere they can get their fingers on enough Central to control even a cross tie on the line of the Central or any of its tributaries.

I have used St. Jacobs Oil in my family with perfect success for everything which needed a liniment, writes Mr. J. B. Potter, Amesville, O. My daughter, having been thrown from a horse, sprained her ankle so badly that she could not walk or sleep; a few applications of St. Jacobs Oil relieved her entirely. A friend who tried it for rheumatism was perfectly cured.

It is stated that Messrs. Appleton & Co., have sold 60,000 sets of their American Encyclopedia at an average price of $5, which is $370,000—and that the estimated profit is one million. A slight discount from this statement is grown.

BROWN'S IRON BITTERS.

Seekers After Health.

Enquirer.

Unfortunate who are seeking to renew their health, are many. So often have they been deceived by the advertisements of worthless compounds, that many are discouraged, and refuse to believe anything they read in the papers. Therefore, the best advertisement of a really good medicine to the public is gained in places where it is being sold. No other remedy ever discovered has grown so rapidly or proved so effective as the original and well known Brown's Iron Bitters. In addition where its extraordinary merits have become fully known and realized by those who have been in ill-health, the sale is unprecedented. One druggist in our city reports the sale of 23 bottles in one week. It is, indeed, a wonderful health-giving life-saving preparation. It is soothing and refreshing in its effect, and strengthens every part of the body, and creates healthy appetite and digestion, even when the system is almost destroyed by the many hurtful cathartics so commonly used. Reader, beware! Duty demands that you try Brown's Iron Bitters, if your health is poor from any cause.

—Trelawny, who saw Shelley cremated on Spezie, so long ago, left directions that his own body should be cremated, which was quietly and decently effected, without sensationalism and scandal.

The Reason Why.

The tonic effect of Kidney-Wort is produced by its cleansing and purifying action on the blood. Where there is a gravelly deposit in the urine, or milky,ropy urine from disordered kidneys, it cures without fail. Constitution and piles readily yield to its cathartic and healing power. Put up in dry vegetable form or liquid (very concentrated), either act prompt and sure.—Troy Budget.

Numerous troops are being transported from Marselles to Tunis, and soon other soldiers of the legion will be "dying in Algiers."

To Our and All.

Are you suffering from a Cough, Cold, Asthma, Bronchitis, or any of the various pulmonary troubles that so often end in Consumption? If so, use "Wilbor's Pure Cod Liver Oil and Lime," a safe and sure remedy. This is a medicinal purity, but is regularly prescribed by the medical profession. Manufactured only by A. B. Wilbor, Chemist, Boston. Sold by all druggists.

—One hundred thousand copies of the song "When You and I Were Young, Maggie," have been sold. It was written by W. H. Purcell, and M. L. Logan, Richmond. At a meeting of the stockholders a dividend of 6 1/2 percent was declared on preferred stock to the 1st of December.

Last night the road had been completed to a point near Parksville, which leaves about eleven or twelve miles intervening between thence and Dorn's.

It is our belief that the next six weeks will see the road finished up to and on this side of Dorn's, which will leave only twenty-four miles to be completed.

THE CENTRAL OF GEORGIA.

Savannah Times.

Colonel Wadley, the president of the Central road, has run a sort of amphibious schedule for the past few weeks. One day we hear of him on land and the next we hear of him at sea, en route to New York. His movements have been made so quietly that the interested ones have been perfectly dumbfounded as to his movements, by both land and water.

Many were the speculations as to the object he had in view, and notwithstanding the many surprises, none of them could solve Mr. Wadley's perambulating problem; hence they all remained in painful anxiety as to his object until the news was flashed over the wires day before yesterday, stating that Colonel Wadley of the Central, had "gobbled up" the Augusta and Port Royal road, and that road which for several years past has been a thorn in the interest of and controlled by the Central.

That was the bombshell which burst and scattered the surmises and their opinions to the four winds.

Mr. Wadley's grand railroad strategy which

LOCAL TIN-TYPES

FROM OUR REPORTERS' POCKET CAMERAS.

Yesterday in the City—What was Done and Said by Home-Folks and Strangers—The Gossip of the Town as Taken on the Fly—In and About the Courts and Departments.

SICK.—Dr. T. S. Powell's many friends will be grieved to know that he is confined to his home on Pryor street. For the past few days he has been exceedingly ill.

A POLICEMAN'S LOSS.—Some time during the day yesterday, a thief entered Police-man Foutie's yard on Whitehall street, and succeeded in getting away with a dozen fine chickens.

COMPLIMENTARY HOP.—Invitations to a hop by the O.C. Club of Atlanta to the Eatow club, of Augusta, are out for Friday evening next at the Kimball house. It promises to be one of the most elegant social affairs of the season.

A NATATORIUM.—An experienced swimming master from Washington city, contemplates removing to Atlanta at an early date and establishing a natatorium in this city. It will be arranged to accommodate both ladies and gentlemen.

A GENUINE POET OF ENTRY.—The fact that Atlanta is a genuine port of entry can be no longer doubted. The Cincinnati party who brought into port the first ship on the Atlanta list claim and deserve due credit for their assistance and achievement.

THE WUNDERFUL SISTERS.—The seven long-haired Sutherland sisters will be at Concordia hall Wednesday night. They have attracted immense crowds at the exposition, and will meet a great audience at Concordia to-morrow night. All should go.

THE FIRST TRAIN.—The first accommodation train on the Central road reached Atlanta yesterday morning at 8 o'clock and brought up a large number of passengers. It left for Barnesville at 5 in the afternoon and went away full. This train promises to become a popular one.

THE BURIAL WORK.—The books of the secretary to the Atlanta board of health show that there were fifteen burial permits issued last week. Of this number four were white and eleven colored. One of the whites died of asthma, another of typhoid fever and one was killed.

YOUNG BUT LABOR.—By the State road train which reached Atlanta Sunday morning at 4 o'clock there arrived Master William Harrison Castlemann, of Kentucky. Master Castlemann is just three years of age and weighs one hundred and thirty pounds. He measures thirty-six inches around his chest, and his limbs are as large as a full-grown man's. His parents who accompany him are ordinary size people. Master Castlemann comes to see the exposition.

LIABILITIES AND ASSETS.—In commercial circles there were, yesterday, rumors of a heavy failure in Augusta. The rumor says that J. W. Burch, dealer in boots and shoes has failed, with liabilities amounting to $40,000 and nominal assets $15,000. He sold out of stock, notes, accounts and real estate to L. O. Clegg, a storekeeper in indorsement, and the general creditors are unsecured. He owes considerable in New York and in Massachusetts, where he purchased most of his goods.

ONE GRAIN AND A HALF.—Yesterday Dr. E. W. Roach, one of the ward physicians, was hastily summoned to a house on Fuller's road where a colored woman was dying. After his arrival a hurried examination disclosed the fact that a woman, known as Mary Johnson, was suffering from a large dose of morphine. Antidotes were accordingly administered with a good result. When able to talk, Mary said that she had swallowed a grain and a half of morphine in order to kill herself, and that she wanted to die because of a quarrel with Isaac Johns, her beau.

AN AGED GENTLEMAN.—Among the Kimball guests at present is Mr. D. C. Graham, an aged Kentucky gentleman. Dr. Graham is in Atlanta with a fine collection of curiosities which he proposes to present to the Young Men's Library association. He is now 98 years of age and moves with ease and rapidity. He is still a strong specimen, and though his hearing is not the best, he says his age never bothers him. Dr. Graham was born in Kentucky and is older than the state itself. He was an associate of Daniel Boone; has camped with him many a night. He lives in Louisville and has plenty of the world's goods. He expresses himself highly pleased with Atlanta and the exposition.

DEATH OF W. E. MOUNTCASTLE.—Mr. W. E. Mountcastle, one of the most prominent young business men in the city, died at the St. Joseph infirmary yesterday morning. Mr. Mountcastle was a young man of great natural ability as a business man, and although only twenty-six years of age, had attained a foremost position in business circles. Personally he was exceedingly popular, and by his many admirable traits of character succeeded in gathering about him a large circle of devoted friends. There was never a truer friend than he. He came to Atlanta about two years ago from East Tennessee and engaged in business. At the time of his death, he was a member of the firm of W. E. Mountcastle &amp; Co., proprietors of the Crescent flouring mills on Marietta street. His remains were taken to his old home yesterday for interment.

DISTRICT.—Yesterday Coroner Hilburn was approached by a colored man who asked for a burial permit for Daniel Green, who died Saturday evening last, at his home on the Flat Shoals road. During the conversation the coroner learned that several physicians had been asked for a burial permit and that they had declined to give one and therefore determined to investigate the case. When he reached the house Mr. Hilburn found that the body had been placed in a coffin and was ready for burial. His inquiries developed the fact that Green had been sick for some weeks and that his death was the result of inattention. The dead man's back was found to be one solid mass of sores, which was alive with vermin. The permit was granted by the coroner, who is now investigating the matter.

HIS FUNERAL.—The remains of Duff Green were laid to rest Sunday evening at five o'clock in Oakwood cemetery. At four o'clock the funeral services were had at Major Hank's residence, on Hunter street, and was largely attended. The body, it lay in the casket literally covered with flowers, the gifts of his many friends, was viewed by a very large number of spectators. The pall-bearers were friends and associates of the dead boy. They were Messrs. R. Cooper, Henry Beermann, Clyde McRae, Charley Ralls, Lopez Johnson and Frank Franklin. The procession was a long one and when the coffin was lowered into the many a sigh was heaved by those whose spirits of love were moved by his uniform weeping and wailing. He was buried beside his home, and his death has made a gloom that can never be dispelled, as just twenty years of age.

SICK NOTES.—While loafing about the city yesterday, a CONSTITUTION representative noticed:

that Augusta sent up a large delegation, who stopped at the Kimball.

that twenty-three Baltimoreans came in and are at the Kimball.

at M. B. Pinson and lady, Mrs. George Miss Jennie Ramey, Miss Sue Ramey.

son, Miss Berta Pinson, Miss Sallie Pinson, Miss Ellen Pinson, Miss Ellen Benton, of Newnan, came up and will remain several days.

—That LaGrange sent up a fair delegation.

—That Opelika is here in a big crowd.

—That a party of twenty came up from Montgomery and stopped at the Markham.

—That Meridian, Miss., sent up a large delegation.

—That a large Macon party came up in the evening, and autographed at the Markham.

—That Nashville sent over a delegation which is at the Markham.

—That Hon. Pat Walsh and lady, Misses Georgia McDonald, Mystic McDonald and B. Walsh, of Augusta, came up and are at the Kimball.

PERSONAL.—Miss Sarah Broyles, of Dalton, is visiting relatives in Atlanta.

—Dr. John Westmoreland left yesterday evening for Florida, where he will spend the winter.

—Mr. Ambrose White, of Cincinnati, is in town.

—Mrs. H. O. Hoyt, of Dalton, is spending some days in Atlanta.

—Miss Mary Jackson, of Dalton, is visiting relatives and friends in this city.

—Dr. Graham, of Kentucky, and the originator of the Graham bread, is in the city. He is a fine looking, well preserved gentleman of 98 years of age.

—Mr. H. Bourne and lady, of Chattanooga, are in the city.

—On Wednesday twenty-two young ladies of the Lucy Cobb institute, Athens, accompanied by Miss Willie Rutherford, the principal, and Mrs. Lipscomb, one of the teachers, will come up to the exposition, and will be the guests of Mrs. Reed. On Thursday night a number of these young ladies will take part in the entertainment at Dr. Westmoreland's, for the benefit of St. Paul's. Little Miss Blanche Lipscomb, a特别 favorite, will give one of her excellent renditions.

THE FIRST TRAIN.—The first accommodation train on the Central road reached Atlanta yesterday morning at 8 o'clock and brought up a large number of passengers. It left for Barnesville at 5 in the afternoon and went away full. This train promises to become a popular one.

BATTLE CREEK, Mich., January 31, 1879. Gentlemen: Having been afflicted for a number of years with indigestion and general debility, by the advice of my doctor I used Hop Bitters, and must say they afforded me almost instant relief. I am glad to be able to testify in their behalf.

A Lucky Pump Maker.

A recent number of the Washington, D. C., Post gives an interesting sketch of how one Augustus de Grummond, driven out of the pump manufacturing business at the national capital owing to the general introduction of Potomac river water, was in his financial desperation led to venture sending a dollar to M. A. Dauphin, New Orleans, and in return obtained $15,000, having received in return half of ticket No. 7,240 in the 137th monthly drawing of the Louisiana State Lottery on October 1st. What luck! And what a stroke of good fortune, with tempter to try to respond to the beneficent M. A. Dauphin, New Orleans, prior to the Grand Semi-Annual Distribution of over half a million of dollars on December 13th, under the sole control of Generals G. T. Beauregard of Louisiana, and Jubal A. Early, of Virginia, and some one else will be put in history in like manner.

A Proclamation.

It having pleased his excellency, ye president of ye United States, to conform to a time-honored custom and to institute and appoint Thursday next, ye 24th inst., a day of national thanksgiving.

Now, therefore, we, the Adams & Westlake Manufacturing Company, desiring to carry out in good faith ye terms of ye presidential proclamation, do hereby ordain and declare that for ye comfort and sustenance of those who shall visit the exposition open at Oglethorpe park on ye 24th day of ye current month, notwithstanding any representations to the contrary, we will furnish to all persons, free of charge, a meal consisting of a fried ham sandwich, his cold meat, pickles, mustard, and bread, and a cold beer, for 25c. All waiters, cooks and assistants, shall bustle, cook, carve and distribute ye toothsome turkeys and ye pies called pumpkins, ye bellies of ye people may be filled with food and their hearts be made merry. And as ye non-explosive oil stove is a godly institution and handy withal, it is decreed that when ye mouths of ye visitors shall be filled with turkey, then shall Mr. Ashton extol ye wonderful stove for ye decoration of his guests.

Given under our hand and seal, this 21st day of November, and of ye great exposition ye 47th.
